

FIRE CONSUMES OLD LANDMARK

Oldest Dwelling In This Section
Falls Prey To Flames Saturday Night

A fire originating in the kitchen of the farm home of M. McEachin at the junction of the Wisconsin and Pelican rivers just at the limits of the city, Saturday night at a few minutes before eleven o'clock caused a total loss of the building and a good share of the contents.

The destruction of this home removes one of the oldest buildings occupied as a dwelling house in this section of the state. A portion of the building contained the old log house built by John C. Curran, soon after the Civil war days, when he made the journey north from Stevens Point through an almost unbroken wilderness, homesteaded this land from the government and established a trading post with the Indians and conducted what in those days was referred to as a "half way house" for the overland travelers on the military road which passed through the site which this city now occupies and on through to the Eagle chain of lakes and to Lake Superior. In the early 70's when the dam was built on the river here the men working on its construction were sheltered and fed at the Curran home. After Rhinelander was platted in 1882 the home was enlarged and to all outward signs the log house was lost to view but it was made a part of the spacious and up-to-date farm home occupied for so many years by Mr. Curran and his estimable family up to the time of its sale and the removal of the Currans to Washington.

The house was one of the buildings badly damaged by the cyclone four years ago, but was rebuilt at that time. The fire Saturday night made a brilliant display in the sky, but fortunately no wind was blowing and it was confined to the one building, the large barn but a short distance from it not being damaged in any way. Insurance to the amount of $2,000 in companies represented by the Barnes-Weesner agency was carried on the property. This covers about fifty percent of the loss sustained by Mr. McEachin.

BUYS LOT FOR AUTO LIVERY

Julius Edwin and son Harvey have purchased of the Pabst Brewing Co. of Milwaukee the 40 ft. frontage on the west side of Brown street just north of the Geo. C. Jewell building. Half of this is occupied by a frame building, which will be demolished to make way for a modern up-to-date auto livery building to be erected by the Edwins the coming year.

The location is a very desirable one, the lots having a depth of 150 feet, running through to Anderson street, which gives an entrance from two streets, a very desirable feature for a building such as will be erected.

John Sum, who conducts a restaurant in the building on the lot will probably transfer his business to the Arlington corner for the winter months.

PLANT CLOSES FOR REPAIRS

The plant of the Wisconsin Veneer company closed Saturday afternoon and will probably not resume operations for at least one month in order to permit necessary repairs.

A Presidential Proclamation by Woodrow Wilson

It has long been the honored custom of our people to turn in the fruitful autumn of the year in praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God for his many blessings and mercies to us as a nation.

Never before have the people of the United States been so situated for their own advantage or the advantage of their neighbors or so equipped to serve themselves and mankind.

Now, therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States of America, do hereby designate the last Thursday of November next as a day of thanksgiving and prayer and invite the people throughout the land to cease from their wonted occupations and in their several homes and places of worship render thanks to Almighty God.

BOY MEETS DEATH WHILE HUNTING

Oliver Harris, Aged 16, Victim
Of Sad Tragedy Near Enterprise

Oneida county's first fatal hunting accident of the 1915 season occurred Thursday last near Enterprise when a sixteen year old boy, Oliver Harris, was shot and killed by Dennis Sparks, a hunting companion.

From the Crandon Republican is taken the following account of the tragedy:

Oliver Harris, sixteen years old, was accidentally shot by Dennis Sparks and almost instantly killed near Enterprise, Thursday.

When the fatality occurred the two young men were with Harris' father and several other hunters. Dennis Sparks was carrying a 38-55 rifle and stumbled against a tree which discharged the gun, the ball striking Harris first in the arm and then passing through his body. He called out to his father that he was shot and died within a few minutes.

The hunting party was composed of Nashville people who had gone over on the Brown Bros. narrow gauge road about four miles from Enterprise to hunt deer.

ABLE LECTURE IS GIVEN THIS WEEK

The Importance Of Medical Inspection Of Pupils Shown By Dr. Harrington

Dr. Harrington, of the University Extension, gave a very interesting lecture, Tuesday evening in the high school assembly room, to a representative audience, but not a large one.

Dr. Harrington spoke on "Health Supervision," which he was pleased to term what is commonly known as "Medical Inspection."

At the opening of his lecture he gave some astonishing statistics, stating that sixty percent of the school children in the U. S. are physically defective, thus losing nine percent of their time and requiring eight and one-half to nine years to do the school work usually done in eight years and which by bright pupils is done in much less time. The physically defective then, lose six months or more of work besides keeping back the pupils associated with them. In other words they are drags in their classes. A large percent of these defects are curable. Among curable defects are bad teeth, defective vision, adenoids, ear-trouble and malnutrition.

The speaker said that the effect of bad teeth is worse on the system than alcohol, though he condemned the use of the latter. Decayed teeth cause infection, resulting in the disarrangement of the entire body. They cause bad digestion and therefore bad nutrition. Few realize the importance of sound teeth.

Defective eye sightness causes severe headaches and often nausea. The child labors under great disadvantages. Aside from his own suffering physically, he drags behind in the class and takes more than his share of the time.

Adenoids cause sluggishness, stupidity and if allowed to remain, in time, prevents mental activity. They also prevent the organs from performing their functions and the child has more physical defects to combat.

One of every ten children is predisposed toward tuberculosis. The activity of the disease only awaits the proper conditions for the germs to begin their deadly work.

Most of these are curable defects. Those not curable, such as deformities, heart disease etc., would greatly be aided by statements coming from grade to grade and a knowledge of the condition of the child would enable the teacher to save the child much.

The doctor recommended a nurse in this city, as health supervisor, as being cheaper and a more practical proposition, as after the examinations, she could get better results by the follow up work and could aid and instruct the parents.

This work was once started here by Miss Bing, but for lack of encouragement and support by the school authorities, she was compelled to give it up. We owe much to Miss Bing in her struggle to begin the work.

Dr. Harrington is a forceful and convincing speaker. While every person in the room could comprehend every statement he made, yet his discourse was thoroughly scientific. He was brought here by the Educational Committee of the Woman's Club and was introduced to the audience by Mrs. Paul Browne, who is chairman of the committee.

Much good must come from such a lecture and every man and woman interested in the welfare of school children ought to be convinced that "Health Supervision" is what we need.

As a prelude to the lecture a very charming duet was rendered by Mrs. George Williams and Miss Alice Schliesmann.

The following query and answer will doubtless be of interest and value in hundreds of Wisconsin homes.

"We have a tubercular patient under treatment in our home, where, also, four young women are taking their meals. Please recommend me the best course to pursue; should we let the boarders go, or can satisfactory safeguards be furnished them under such conditions? We desire to be fair to everyone concerned."

Your problem is to be considered from two angles, 1st—what is best for the patient; and 2nd—what is best for the boarders.

Personally, I am convinced that every patient suffering from tuberculosis should, if at all possible (and it is usually possible for an individual patient), be treated in a tuberculosis sanatorium. The chances of recovery are seldom so good under any other conditions. If, therefore, arrangements can be made to have the patient enter a sanatorium, you will do best for the patient, for the boarders, and for your own family.

Concerning the second and alternative phase of the problem, it is not at all impossible for well people to live in fairly close contact with consumptives without serious danger to their health. It is being done every day in the sanatoria. In your problem of safeguarding the boarders, the greatest demand is for the patient to be furnished with separate dishes which should be washed and handled separately from those used by the family and boarders. A practical suggestion for private families is offered by sanatoria which use dishes of different pattern for patients than that of dishes used for those not suffering from the disease. This makes accidental mixing almost impossible.

Preventing tuberculosis requires more intelligent vigilance than profound knowledge because there is but one source of danger in pulmonary consumption and that is in the discharges from the patient's lungs. But there are many possible ways in which a person who is in close contact with a patient can get the germs of the disease in his system during a twenty-four hour day. Here are a few of the most important warnings:

Don't shake hands with a consumptive.

Don't kiss a consumptive.

Don't drink from his glass.

Don't handle bedding, papers, cloths, etc., without thoroughly washing hands afterwards and possibly rinsing them in alcohol.

Burn the discharges. If they are collected in paper napkins, or paper boxes this will be accomplished most easily.

A consumptive should be urged and taught to be unusually cleanly in his habits. Then, to double the safeguards, his attendants themselves should be unusually cleanly.

Write for packet of literature which will be mailed without cost to you.

DOUBLY PROVEN

Rhinelanders Readers Can No Longer Doubt the Evidence

This Rhineland citizen testified long ago.

Told of quick relief—of undoubted benefit.

The facts are now confirmed. Such testimony is complete—the evidence conclusive.

It forms convincing proof of merit.

Frank Rogers, cabinet maker, 730 Wabash St. Rhineland, says: "My back ached and I had pains through my loins. My kidneys were weak, too. I finally got Doan's Kidney Pills at Reardon's Drug Store and they gave me great relief." (Statement given November 1910.)

OVER TWO YEARS LATER, Mr. Rogers said: "I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills off and on since I recommended them and have always found good results. I think just as highly of them now as I did when I gave my former statement."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Rogers had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

EVENTS OF WEEK IN NEARBY TOWNS

Iron River, Wis.—

A special train twenty cars carrying over 3,000 head of sheep to the Chicago market, were shipped out of Iron River Friday. This constituted the largest single shipment of sheep ever made from this part of the state. The shippers were L. C. Piper and Fritz and M. L. Carlson and Valentine Depta, and while there were in the neighborhood of 1,000 head of native stock, the greater part of the lot was made up of Montana stock brought into the Iron River country this fall for finishing upon the cut over lands.

In consultation with Major Emmanuel Rossiter, of the Wisconsin National Guard, Robert K. Lee, who is one of the principals in the movement for organizing a company of militia in this city, received a great deal of encouragement from the major in connection with the idea. Major Rossiter expressed himself as being very favorable toward the raising of a company here. He stated that in a talk with General Chas. King the latter informed him of the probability of increasing the number of regiments of the national guard from three to six in the near future, and in the event of such an occurrence, Ladysmith, with an independent company, would stand first in being incorporated into the national guard.

The first fatal hunting accident of the present season in this county occurred early Friday morning when Victor Nordberg, a well known resident of Ramsay, accidentally shot himself with a rifle. Nordberg was hunting about seven miles north of Wakefield and was out early in the morning watching for deer. He was standing on a stump holding the rifle with the stock resting on the stump and the muzzle toward him, when the gun slipped, and was discharged, the bullet entering Nordberg's body and so severely wounding him that he died in five minutes.

Park Falls—

For the accommodation of their logging crew the Park Falls Lumber company has just completed a set of camp cars said to be the most luxurious ever put in service. The new camps consist of twelve cars, accommodating a crew of 150 men and all their requirements for work in the woods. The entire train is electric lighted and heated with a vapor system, one car equipped with a boiler, small engine and dynamo, supplying heat and light. The cars are substantially built and well finished, and present a more slightly appearance and are even more comfortable than the average city residence.

Ironwood people were recently fleeced to the extent of several hundred dollars through the cleverness of a pretty woman solicitor. She collected money from a number of Ironwood business men for the "Rescue Home Association", Menominee, Mich. Her cheery smile and winsome manner resulted in a big sum being raised for the "home." An investigation showed that at 801 Main street, Menominee, where the rescue work was supposed to be going on, there was a tailor shop. The donors have their receipts, at least, signed by the dashing woman as "M. Hutchinson." Grand Rapids—

Affairs of state are at a standstill in the city of Pittsville due to the resignation of a majority of the council. The trouble arose when the street and sidewalk committee condemned a sidewalk belonging to C. A. Ladewig. The proper authorities went to tear up the walk, but found Mr. Ladewig on the job with a shotgun and a threat to shoot the first man laying his hands on the walk, his idea being to leave the walk until next spring. The street and sidewalk committee, composed of G. W. Severns, J. J. Ebbe and R. W. Lust, resigned, due to the mayor's failure to enforce the law. These resignations leave the council without a quorum and necessarily official business is at a standstill.

LACK OF DYES

A Wausau dispatch states that paper mills at Brokaw, Rothschild and Mosinee are feeling the shortage of dyes. Before the war the Marathon mills paid $40,000 a year for dyes. Now it costs much more, and is inferior. D. C. Everest, one of the officials, says he is doubtful of the success of the attempts to make any line dyes in this country, while W. L. Edmonds is inclined to think the United States will eventually produce as brilliant dyes as Germany, at a reasonable cost, if the industry is protected. In case of severe shortage the output of colored paper would be greatly reduced, but the total output of paper would be kept up, most of it left natural color.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES

Rhineland physicians have received a new set of instructions from the state board of health for the report of communicable diseases.

Cases of diphtheria, scarlet fever, smallpox, cerebro spinal meningitis, Asiatic cholera, typhus fever and bubonic plague, typhoid fever, measles, whooping cough, chicken pox, mumps, erysipelas, tuberculosis of any organ and trachema must be reported within 24 hours.

A special form of blank is to be furnished physicians for reporting cases of venereal diseases.

Diphtheria and membranous croup cases must be quarantined at least 14 days. Minimum quarantine for scarlet fever is 21 days, for smallpox, until all crusts or scales have fallen off; for spinal meningitis, 14 days; for typhus fever until after complete recovery.

OLD MAIL CLERK RESIGNS

After serving many years as mail clerk on the Monico-Watersmeet train B. H. Grant has tendered his resignation to take effect on November 1. It is learned that he will devote the future to farming and will make his home on his farm near Monico. Mr. Grant feels that there is more money in the soil than there is in being a faithful servant for the government.

Although no class should be more interested in Medical Inspection of schools, than teachers, the Tuesday evening's lecture by Doctor Harrington on this subject was conspicuous for the absence of city teachers.

At the county board meeting last week, A. W. Brown and Henry Wubker Sr. old members on the board fought desperately to keep the budget low. They feared the result of so large a levy.

What would you think of a business man who poses as an example of true manhood and a surplus of brains, who would ship his own wife to her relatives and refuse to furnish her funds with which to return? We regret to state there is such a man in Rhinelander.

While the county budget seems large, we believe it could not be avoided. At the close of the fiscal year, the county will be heavily in debt and the board not only had to provide for the deficiency, but for future expenses. A most careful and impartial study of existing conditions by the board resulted in the levy.

Railroads of the United States demonstrated their faith in newspaper advertising by spending $10,000,000 for newspaper space in the last fiscal year according to an address made before the Chicago Advertising association by Garrett Fort, general passenger agent of the Union Pacific. Railroads aim not to waste any money. Another proof that it pays to advertise.

Rev. Heyl's interesting sermon on dancing at the Congregational church last Sunday afternoon drew representative listeners from all denominations. In another column is a brief account of this address. We fully agree with the sentiments of the sermon and are glad that the people were able to hear such a carefully prepared talk on so important a social question.

Doctor Harrington's two addresses Wednesday in the city on Medical Inspection of Schools, will be of great good. Parents seemed most deeply interested and from this interest, we believe, the best of results will be derived.

Closing the saloons Sunday does not mean to leave the lights off and let the men pass in and get their drinks and then pass out. This was a very conspicuous incident at one saloon at about 6:30 Sunday evening.

Booker Washington, the colored philanthropist and educator, who died last week, is loved and respected by his whole race and also by the white people. Over 8,000 attended his funeral at Tuskegee. The Episcopal burial services were read and plantation songs were sung. If a single specimen of the black race has given his life to his people and harmonized relationship of the black and white, it was Booker Washington. We are satisfied that his mourning will not be confined to the black race, but to all the people of this nation.

We believe the county board did their best to expedite business at the annual meeting last week. All seemed anxious to do their best to hurry things along. All seemed anxious to handle the matters that came up for consideration to the best advantage of the tax payers. Some of the members who are comparatively new on the board shone for splendid service. Dennis Rice of Pelican and James Baker of the fifth ward took a large part of the burden of figuring out the town assessments. Mr. Korzelius of Three Lakes although recently appointed as a member, took hold of the work like a veteran. Mr. Ira Smith is a most congenial and active chairman, and gets things done in a good spirit. It is hoped the good members will be retained on the board next year.

DON'T CLOSE WINDOWS
"Don't pull down your bedroom windows at the first cool breath of autumn," advises the state board of health. "Get more cover instead and let in plenty of cool, invigorating air."
"Good, pure air is called one of the best preventives against communicable diseases, as well as one of the most important agents in supplying one with strength and ability to work."
"People having sleeping porches are often disposed to close them for the season just as soon as autumn brings a change in the weather."
"Don't come in from your sleeping porch the first cold night, but provide sufficient covering and sleeping garments and make it an open-air sleeping porch for the whole year round."
"Also, don't leave off the morning bath. At least, stick to the cold sponge bath all winter through and be free from colds, sniffles and that chilly sensation this winter."
"Finally, walk somewhere every day. Now that the weather is cooler, a walk of two to four miles should be on the daily program as much so as the three meals. As a matter of fact, for most people the daily walk is more essential than the third meal."

COUNTY SOLONS MAKE OUT BUDGET

Total Of $127,862.50 To Be Expended During Coming Year

The county board has completed the work of its annual meeting and adjourned to the second Tuesday in March. The budget for the coming year is as follows:

General fund	$50,000.00
Soldier's relief fund	1,200.00
Bonds	5,000.00
Interest on bonds	3,787.50
Court expenses	5,500.00
Bounties	500.00
Court House grounds	250.00
Training school fund	2,000.00
Agricultural Representative	1,250.00
Onelda Agri. Society	1,700.00
Poor and Pauper fund	3,500.00
Mother's pension fund	2,000.00
County & State Highway	21,500.00
Co. & Town budget fund	3,375.00
County school fund	2,800.00
Total levy	$106,362.50
Bonds for roads	21,500.00

Total to be expended.....$127,862.50

This is in comparison with a budget of about $78,000 a year ago. Last year the state paid much more toward roads than this year. Consequently, the county road levy and the road bonded indebtedness are necessarily much greater in order to continue road work. As conditions now stand, there will be about $60,000 put on roads including the separate town budgets. While the county tax is over $27,000 higher than a year ago, aside from the bonds to be issued, the state tax is lower and the city tax is lower. On the whole, the city tax will be a little higher than last year due to the large increase in the county tax over a year ago.

JUSTICE BARNES AS DOG'S FRIEND

One of the Supreme Court cases given this week was one that went to the higher court from Milwaukee, an action brought to recover damages by a party who had been bitten by a pet dog in that city. In civil court in Milwaukee the jury found that the plaintiff was free from contributing negligence and that the defendant failed to exercise ordinary care in the keeping of the dog. Damages amounting to $925.50 were awarded.

The court set aside the verdict and entered judgment dismissing the action. From this judgment the plaintiff appealed to the circuit court, which entered an order reversing the judgment of the civil court, and granting a new trial in the circuit court. From this order the defendant appealed. Justice Vinje in a long opinion affirms the decision of the circuit court.

Justice Barnes, in his dissenting opinion declares:

"This dog was not a man-eater. I think the defendant had a right to keep him in her home for companionship and protection against marauders, and was not guilty of any negligence in so doing. I further think a person may keep a dog in his house without being negligent, where he knows that the animal will bite intruders. A caller may make a mistake as to the door which should be entered in order to call on another, but this does not justify the caller in promiscuously opening other doors and intruding in other places."

REV. HEYL SPEAKS ON DANCING

Mr. Heyl gave an address on dancing at vespers Sunday to a well filled church. The audience was a mixed one and consisted of people from nearly all the churches in the city.

Mr. Heyl quoted from the Bible that dancing had practically always been a form of amusement used on joyous occasions and was spoken of twenty-six times in the Bible. He declared himself in favor of the pastime under proper conditions. He said that young people would indulge in dancing any way. Why not properly restrict and supervise it and make it a harmless amusement. Take away late hours, liquor, sensuality, vulgarity in dress and position. Pluck out the evil and plant something in its place that would prove a lasting good. If good men and women would take hold and supervise these dances and eliminate the improper, people would change their ideas about the wickedness of dancing. The young must have amusements, why not create a wholesome atmosphere and let them dance.

There was extra music consisting of duets by Messrs. Rick and Hayner on violin and viola. The boys' orchestra also contributed to the music.

GOVERNOR'S PROCLAMATION

As another year draws toward its close, the people of our state and nation have extraordinary reasons to be thankful. While other countries have been engaged in war, we have enjoyed the blessings of peace. In an era of carnage and destruction, we have been allowed to keep on in our accustomed ways of industry and national growth. Want, pestilence and all of the evils that follow in the wake of war have left our homes unmolested; and now that harvest-time is past, nature has rewarded our labors with an abundance that has seldom been equalled.

It is fitting that we receive these favors of providence in a spirit of gratitude, and that, in accordance with our American custom, we set aside a day to render thanks for benefits received and take deeper thought upon the duties which such benefits impose upon us.

Thanksgiving is the oldest of our American holidays. Its spirit preceded and gave rise to our more patriotic celebrations. It is the natural expression of a people whose ideals are those of peace and industry. It is the holiday of the pioneer, who, with all his hardihood and self-reliance, realizes that his good fortune is not all of his own making nor wholly due to any virtue of his own.

As we have grown from a small country mainly concerned with agriculture and have taken our place among the mighty nations of the world, the spirit of thanksgiving has remained with us and the holiday has been preserved to express our attitude as a people.

The present year, with its compelling wider outlook upon world affairs is well calculated to give it a still deeper and more thoughtful observance. Because of our fortunate situation we have been allowed to sit as a spectator nation watching nearly the whole world at war. While other homes are bereaved, fertile fields bereft of their laborers and the works of peace ruthlessly destroyed, we live at peace with the world and enjoy the fruits of our labor.

Confronted with war such as has never been known, with whole populations involved in racial strife that gives an entirely new aspect to war, we cannot but turn our eye inward and see anew causes for hope and gratitude. A composite people made up of the virtues of many races, and pledged to a new ideal in government, our hearts have been torn in many directions by a natural sympathy with our kinsman across the sea; and yet this trying experience has only served to draw us closer to our own country and knit us together in stranger bonds of patriotism.

This, even more than for bounteous crops and such material benefits, we should be especially thankful.

Therefore, I, Emanuel Philipp, as governor of the state of Wisconsin, and in conformity with a proclamation of the president of the United States of America, do hereby designate and proclaim Thursday, the twenty-fifth day of November, THANKSGIVING DAY and recommend that it be generally observed. Let us unite with one another in remembrance of our blessings and thereby foster in our hearts the spirit of our nation, thankful, thoughtful and well disposed. And out of our own abundance let there flow a feeling of mercy to all men and a spirit of benevolence toward those who are not so fortunately situated.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the state of Wisconsin to be affixed. Done at the capitol, in the city of Madison, this eleventh day of November, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

E. L. PHILIPP, Governor.

JOHN S. DONALD,
Secretary of State.

WARDEN SOCIETY'S ANNUAL BANQUET

Singers Royally Entertain For Friends At Eagles' Hall Thursday Night

A gathering which taxed the capacity of Eagles' hall assembled Thursday evening, the occasion being the annual banquet of the Warden Society which was held at that time. The evening opened with an excellent program of vocal numbers by the members of this invincible singing society. This was followed by supper, under the supervision of Gust Swedberg. The guests were feasted at tables groaning under the weight of good things. John Swedberg acted as toastmaster for the evening and called on several of the guests for short talks, a dozen or more responding. Story telling then followed and a prize of $1.00 was offered for the best story given. Dr. Elliott, Carl Krueger and Walter Evans stood about even in the eyes of the judges, Elliott, if anything, a trifle in the lead, so the prize money was divided among the trio, fifty cents to Dr. Elliott and two bits to each of the others. The evening's festivities closed with several vocal selections by the society, the guests departing at a late hour, all agreeing that the occasion was a most enjoyable one.

CUPID CAPTURES YOUNG COUPLE

The announcement of the marriage of Ed. Abel and Miss Esther Beasom came as a surprise to the friends of the couple in this city. The ceremony took place on Wednesday of last week, Rev. DeJung officiating. The newlyweds immediately departed on a brief wedding trip and it was several days later before any but a few of their most intimate friends were aware of the important step in life which they had taken. They returned the first of this week and have since been receiving the congratulations of their friends. They will commence house-keeping in a few days in a cozy home which the groom has prepared. May their life's journey be ever along pleasant paths, and may they share love's richest blessings.

ELKS ENTERTAIN

One of the most enjoyable social affairs ever held in the Elks' Club rooms was the banquet given Friday evening by the members of 338 in honor of those who participated in the production of the recent Elks' minstrel show. At the banquet board Judge Charles F. Smith acted as toastmaster and various remarks and talks, containing both wit and logic, were made by a number present. Following the feast a smoker was held and the evening devoted to music, song and story.

Many who took part in the minstrels are not members of the Elks lodge and the banquet was given largely in recognition of their services.

Many tickets have been sold for the charity ball this evening.

Miss Winnie Bailey of Waupaca now librarian at Merrill, arrived in the city this afternoon to visit the home of Judge Steele and incidentally take in the charity ball.

At the recent county board meeting A. W. Brown was chosen to succeed himself a third term for three years, and E. W. Knapp a second term of three years as members of the county training school board.

Reaching an Understanding.
A big row was going on in an Aitch son home and finally, the Globe says, one of the neighbors rushed in and said to a woman who was red in the face from screaming at a very angry looking man, "Look here, what's the matter?" "Oh, it's nothing," said the red-faced woman. "Father and I are having a perfect understanding, that's all."

Steel vs. Iron.
For some purpose from is to be preferred to steel and vice versa. To easily distinguish one from the other, make a bright spot on the metal with a file or sand paper and apply a single drop of nitric acid. Allow it to remain for one or two minutes and wash or wipe off. If the spot has a pale ashy appearance it is wrought iron; if it is a brownish black, it is steel; if a deep black, it is cast iron.

Were Long Without Good Things.
Spinach was introduced into England early in the reign of Queen Elizabeth, as also was the cucumber while celery was introduced to England by a French prisoner in 1701.

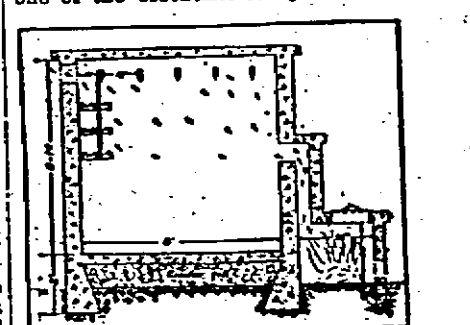

Not a Good Thing to Eat.
Sunlight is a natural tonic for little pigs, and they revel in it.

CURING MEAT FOR HOME USE

One of Essentials for Good Meat is Properly Designed Smokehouse—It Should Be Fireproof.

Why pay 25 cents a pound for smoked meats when you can smoke it for nothing with a little hickory or maple wood or a few cobs? Not many years ago, when most farmers knew how to butcher and cure meats few of them were without a smokehouse and a meat storing room of some kind, writes Leah Ruth Lippincott in Farmers Mail and Breeze. The development of the centralized plant or packing house has caused a great majority of our farmers to lose the art of home curing. It will be profitable, with the present high prices of cured meat and market values of live stock to cure meat for home use or even the local trade.

This should be a fireproof building. The accompanying figure, furnished by the North Dakota Agricultural college, shows the side section of a concrete structure that is about the right size for the average farm. This house also is suitable for storing meat. It is cool and sanitary. If a good lock and burglar alarm are put on the door the meat will be comparatively safe from thieves.

The fire box is placed on the outside of the building for convenience in controlling and replenishing the fire and smoke. There is little danger of the meat overheating with this arrangement. This house will cost about $65, with cement at 50 cents a hundred and lumber at $30 a thousand. This does not include the labor of construction. Here is the bill of material:
Forty-eight sacks of cement, 4 loads (1 1/2 yards) of sand, 8 loads of stone, one door, two 2 by 8 by 12s for door frames, three 2 by 4 by 14s for meat hooks. Lumber for forms: Eighteen 2 by 4 by 10s; sixteen 2 by 4 by 8s; 600 board feet sheathing.

WELL-TILLED FARM IS BEST

It Is Not Number So Much as Quality and Care Given That Combine to Bring in Net Results.

A few sheep, a small herd of cows, one or two good brood sows, a flock of Plymouth Rocks or Wyandotte hens, and a few turkeys, on a small farm, well cared for, will bring better net results than large flocks, big herds and big droves. It is not the number so much as the quality and the care given that combine the net results; some men think they must have a big farm to make anything; such men often make out of pocket. There is economy in working as much land and growing as many crops as can be well taken care of, but there is no economy in attempting more than can be well done.

A veteran farmer used to say that he planned his work in the winter so that he would have under cultivation just what could be thoroughly worked with his regular help, and he was usually able to get his work done at the proper time, and was not obliged to alight his work. And he generally managed to have as good crops as any of his neighbors and he did not work hard, either. If farmers would but take a lesson from this, break up less land and spend more time in thoroughly fitting it for the crop they would have time to cultivate it more thoroughly and to harvest it in proper condition and attain larger crops from the small area than they do from the larger.

EXPERIMENT WITH HOG FEED

Relative Value of Potatoes and Corn Obtained in Test Held at the Wisconsin Station.

The relative value of potatoes and corn as feed for hogs, obtained in a test at the Wisconsin station, is given as follows:
Four hundred pounds cornmeal fed alone produced 109 pounds gain; 262 pounds cornmeal with 766 pounds of potatoes, weighed before cooking, produced the same number of pounds gain.
Professor Henry who conducted the experiments, says: "From this we learn that 766 pounds of potatoes when fed to pigs after being cooked, effected a saving of 178 pounds of cornmeal, 412 pounds of potatoes taking the place of 100 pounds of cornmeal."

Professor Henry in his book "Feeds and Feeding" also says that the Copenhagen station found 100 pounds of cooked potatoes equal to 100 pounds of mixed grains for swine. Since corn has somewhat higher feeding value than the grains used in this test, it is fair to say that 4.5 bushels (60 pounds each) of potatoes after cooking, are equal to one bushel (56 pounds) of corn in feeding pigs.

Sunlight is a natural tonic for little pigs, and they revel in it.

An American Mother's Thanksgiving

"THANKFUL" sighs the harassed house mother. "Oh, yes, I suppose I am! But it does seem harder to feel properly grateful with turkeys soaring quite out of sight and the usual things that go with them almost beyond one's reach."

Suppose you stop to think—you with so great a cause for heartfelt praise—what some other women feel thankful for, women who wrote things like this from across the seas:

One in Germany whose husband was carried home to her with one leg amputated above the knee writes, "But we'll do the best we can to find for him some new way to make an honest living, and, oh, dear heart, how thankful am I that he is so maimed, for now I may keep him with me!"

Another one, in France, whose daughter, but lately married, lost her reason when suddenly confronted with her young husband's name among the killed, says, "Heart lacerating as it is to hear her foolishly contented prattle about Didier, whom she constantly prepares to welcome home tomorrow, I thank the good God from the bottom of my soul for the mild insanity which keeps her from realizing that Didier is dead and both her brothers missing and that I, her mother, am the most bereaved and desolate of women."

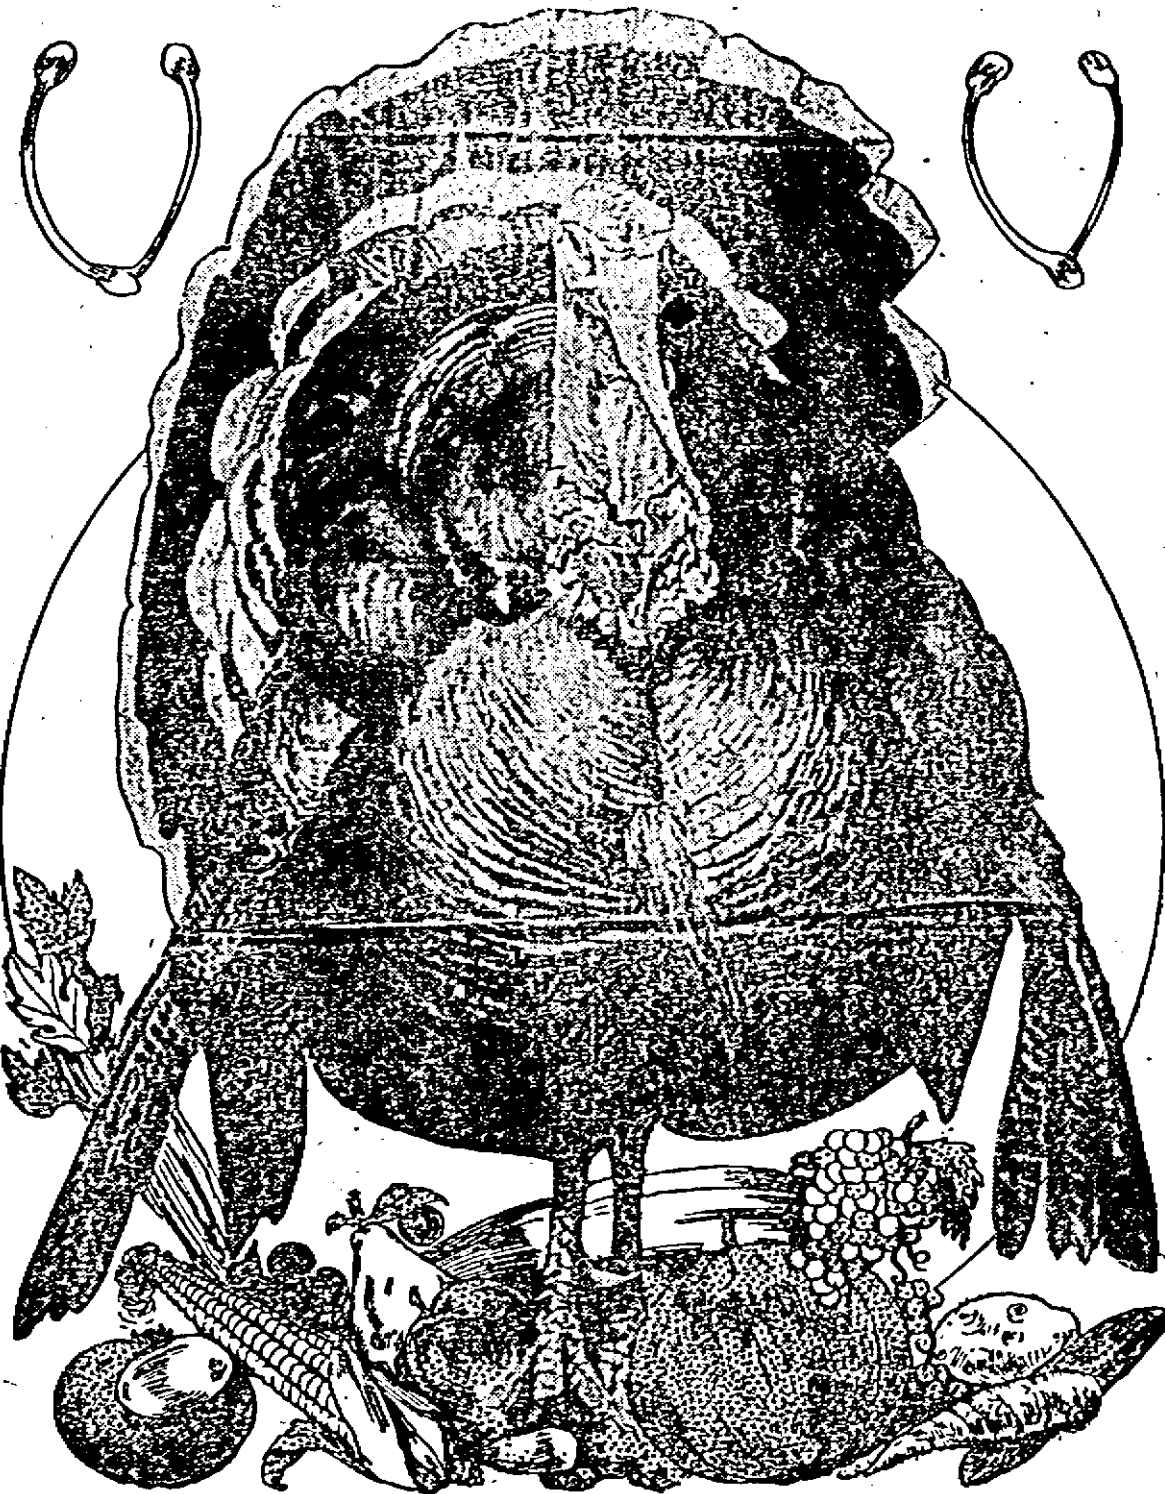

A third wrote from her home in Folkestone, England: "And little did we think we should ever get reconciled to our dear mother's death so soon after Aunt Lucy's! How true that God knows best, for from the deepest corner of my heart I feel grateful to the Lord for taking mother and Aunt Lucy home before the soul-revolting war brought all this misery to us."

Then come, thou desponding American soul! Instead of turkey and mince pies serve rice pudding, fricassee, pot roast or even lamb stew. Look around your table at your well fed, warm and well covered brood, across at your kind, sound and all-there good man and most devoutly thank the good God for this blessed America of ours!

"Thanks to God" Our Song of Life

"Thanks to God" may be your opening and closing song. One brief life may be a life of gratitude. Have you a home? Then be thankful for it, however humble the home may be, for roses will not bloom more beautifully and the vines will not more gracefully cling to any other home. Have you friends? Cherish every friend you possess, for really you haven't as many as you think. Have you parents now alive? Cherish with fondness their every presence, for the time is not far away when you will look for them and they will not be here. Have you a brother, a sister? Make them feel your great and human worth by thoughtfulness and kindness to them.

So, friends, let the great past sweep before our memories, have the nation bow its knee to the Almighty God and let the individual speak out his gratitude, and, after all is said, there will remain many more blessings which call for our thanks as eloquently as those we have mentioned. Some of you may have seen the Elsie Madonna at Dresden, in some respects the most wonderful picture of maternal love which exists in the whole world. For a long time the canvas was covered with a crust of impurities gathered from its years of hanging, and an artist, in making repairs, discovered a cherub face in the dark background and was led to suspect the picture had been overlaid by time and neglect. He commenced cleaning it, and as he went on cherub after cherub reappeared until it was found that this priceless Madonna was on a background made up wholly of little heavenly cherubs. So those blessings for which we should give thanks are sometimes shamefully covered by our thoughtlessness and neglect.—Rev. W. A. Rupert of Pittsburgh.

OLD SOO LINE CONDUCTOR DEAD

E. W. Dingman, until less than three years ago, one of the veteran conductors of the Soo line railway and known along the Soo as far west as Minneapolis, died Thursday at the Rest hospital, Minneapolis, after an illness covering a period of about three years.

Next to Conductor Sharp, also of the Soo line, Mr. Dingman was the oldest conductor in the employ of the Soo line railroad. He had served the company for nearly thirty years, but was forced to leave this work about three years ago due to ill health. He first went to Texas to seek relief, but with out result.

About eight weeks ago, he left Sault Ste. Marie, for Minneapolis and remained in the hospital there until his death.

Mrs. Dingman was ever at her husband's bedside. Railroad men and travelers with whom Mr. Dingman chanced to meet, will be grieved to learn of his death, as he was always a favorite while on the road.

He belonged to several railroad organizations and was always active in railroad circles. During the greater share of his life, he made the Soo his home. He was fifty-eight years old. This is the third veteran employee of the Soo line that has passed away within the past few months.

THE BIJOU

"It is beautiful in its savagery." This is the way one woman referred to "The Spoilers". Most certainly it is beautiful; beautiful in acting, in detail and in photography. It is also savage, but what true picture of wild Alaskan days of the gold craze could omit the gun play, nights of dissipation, deceit and brutality.

Never has a fight such as the battle between Glenister and MacNamara been shown in any dramatization. Discarding weapons the men grapple in a battle to the death.

"I broke him with my own hands," hysterically cries Glenister after he has ripped the arm of MacNamara from its socket.

Never has William Farnum done better work in any picture and never been better supported by a better company.

It is doubtful if a greater dramatic film has ever been produced. At the Bijou Friday night, at 10 cents to all.

EAGLES' DANCE

FIRST COLD SPELL UNUSUALLY SEVERE

This section of the country has had its first touch of real winter weather for this season, the mercury dropping low enough Saturday night to close over the small streams and portions of the river outside the main channel. About two inches of snow fell Friday night and a few sleighs were in evidence Sunday and Monday.

Monday night the temperature dropped to zero and Boom lake closed over so we may expect good skating in a few days more if there is no more snow. The snow storm did not extend north of Woodruff but to the south of us a goodly portion of the state had a good sprinkling of it.

VICAR GENERAL IS DEAD AT SUPERIOR

Father Walter Pardy, for more than a score of years pastor of Sacred Heart parish Superior, until forced by ill health to retire, died Monday. He had been patient for eighteen months at a hospital. Born in 1834, at Beloit, he was graduated from St. Francis seminary, Milwaukee, and admitted to the priesthood in 1855. He was vicar general under the Rt. Rev. Bishop P. Schinner, Superior diocese.

ACCIDENT KILLS MINOCQUA MAN

Only Lee, who was injured while stepping from a caboose into the lake at Minocqua last week, passed away Friday at the Tomahawk hospital. He fell about fifteen feet from the caboose steps into the lake below, striking the piling, which caused serious internal injuries. Lee was a single man and was about 24 years of age. The body was taken to Minocqua for burial Saturday morning.

Lee was employed at the round house of the Milwaukee road at Minocqua and had boarded a freight train for a short ride. It was just as the shades of evening were falling and when the train came to a stop on the bridge over the lake, he, without giving the matter a thought, stepped from the caboose thinking that the train was on solid ground.

NEW POSTOFFICE ORDER

A postoffice order recently issued requires all assistant postmasters in offices of the second and third class to take a railway mail service examination. The assistants will be examined as to their knowledge of junction points, railway postoffices and all of the postoffices in the state. This is the first time assistant postmasters have been required to take this examination.

Anthony Revnew was down from Woodruff between trains Tuesday. Jas. Murphy was up from Monico trading with our merchants Tuesday.

A Song of Thanksgiving

By MINNA IRVING

(Copyright, 1915, by American Press Association.)

THANKSGIVING to the Lord of Hosts,
Who rules the mountain and the wave.

Who cools the cannon's burning lips
And leads to victory the brave.

From lofty peak to level plain,
From forest land to rolling sea,

In fields our willing hands have tilled,
Today we bend the grateful knee.

Thanksgiving for the bounteous gifts
That crown the happy harvest year,

The wheat all silver on the stalk,
The corn all golden in the ear.

Thanksgiving for the countless herds
That on the sunset hills increase,

And thank thee most of all, O Lord,
For all the blessed arts of peace!

WEDS TOO SOON; GETS NO DAMAGES

A woman who weds a divorced man before the time specified by law can not collect damages in case of his accidental death, according to a decision handed down by the Supreme court on Tuesday.

living at the time of his death, sought the death benefit. Armstrong was married before; had secured a divorce, but had not waited six months as required by the laws of Kansas, where he lived at the time of his second marriage, before he married Ruth Armstrong. The commission could not find, therefore, that Ruth Armstrong had been legally married, and dismissed the application without compensation.

FACTORY TO START

The Robbins hardwood flooring factory on the north side will start operations some time between December 15 and 31 and will run steadily throughout the year, according to information furnished the New North by men who are interested in the plant.

The operation of this factory will mean an important addition to the industrial interests of Rhinelander. It is understood that a large number of men will be given employment.

BONUS MONEY FOR TEACHERS

According to reports made to the state superintendent of public instruction, there are hundreds of rural school teachers entitled to bonuses provided under a law passed by the last legislature, ranging from two dollars to eight dollars a month, depending on the length of time the beneficiaries have taught in the same district. The teachers eligible to bonuses must file applications with their county superintendent of schools, who must approve them and certify them to the state authorities. The money will be paid to the teachers at the end of the present school year. Teachers who are now teaching their second term in the same school are entitled to six dollars a month, four years or more, eight dollars a month. Following is a list of Oneida county teachers who will receive the bonus, and the towns in which their schools are located:

Ella Crain, district 1, town of Cassian.
Walter Fisher, district 1, town of Hazelhurst.
Florence Mott, district 1, town of Little Rice.
Minocqua Clawson, district 1, town of Minocqua.

PAY BOUNTIES ON THREE WOLVES

That wolves are constantly increasing in numbers in this and adjoining counties is very evident from the record of the bounty money that is being paid out by the counties and state. In Vilas and Forest counties they have become so numerous and bold as to become a menace to the farmers, several of whom have lost live stock from raids made at night by the animals. In this county scarcely a month now passes that a wolf scalp is not presented at the county clerk's office for the payment of the bounty. The last week three that were trapped in different sections of the county were brought in by the following: Julius Lassig, town of Pelican; John Schultz, town of Newbold; and Arthur Wecker of the town of Tomahawk Lake. The county pays $10 and the state a like amount on each full grown wolf killed. Vilas county pays double this amount.

NEW CIGAR SHOP

Steve Gwidit until recently in the service of the state as conservation warden, has decided to return to his former occupation as manufacturer of cigars. He has leased quarters in the Arlington hotel building on Brown street where he will conduct a shop. Mr. Gwidit was in the employ of Sam Anderson here for many years and understands the cigar trade from A to Z and will no doubt make a success of his venture. He will have some of his leading brands of cigars on the market in a few days.

RHINELANDER GRANGE

The Antigo Journal each week devotes a page to news of the various granges in this section of the state. A write-up of the Rhinelander grange is given this week, embellished with cuts of Mrs. S. S. McIntosh and Mrs. John F. Wilde.

PURE BRED SIRES IN THIS COUNTY

Oneida county's horse breeding industry is not in as healthy condition as the natural advantages of the region warrant. There are three stallions and one jack used for breeding purposes in the county at present, according to figures from the department of horse breeding, University of Wisconsin. One of the stallions is a pure bred Percheron, the others are scrubs.

The county agricultural representative, W. D. Juday, Rhinelander, is trying to awaken more interest in the breeding of pure bred horses in the district. It is hoped that within a few years more pure bred stallions will be brought into the county and placed in service in order to develop a better grade of animals to do the hard work of a new farming section.

Wisconsin was the first state in the country to adopt a systematic plan for the improvement of horse breeding through the elimination of grade and scrub sires. The work is in charge of Dr. A. S. Alexander of the College of Agriculture, University of Wisconsin, who reports that about 38 per cent of all the stallions used for breeding purposes in the state are pure bred. In 1907 65 per cent of the total number were grades and scrubs.

The horsemen of this county who are helping the cause of better breeding by keeping pure bred sires are: S. E. Florsheim, Minocqua; S. F. Weatherly, Starks.

WORK PROGRESSING

The work of installing the new 80-foot turn table at the Soo round house in this city is being pushed just as rapidly as possible. A large crew has been put on the job with the hopes of completing the work before the arrival of real winter weather. Like much of the railroad work of replacement the old turn table must be kept in condition to use while the new one is being built around it. This necessarily hinders the new work to some extent.

The Priscillas entertained their friends at a tea Friday evening at the home of the Misses May and Helen Brown. A miscellaneous shower for Miss Helen Forbes was given on this occasion.
